I love painting and I have loved painting rainbow trees. The rainbow is a symbol of faith.

"I have set My rainbow in the clouds, and it will be a sign of hope."

Trogon

In a dark, murky forest there lives a dirty and gruesome monster called Trogon.

He has purple bumpy skin and red bulging eyes which are so red and huge that they are as bright as the sun. He has crooked and sharp ears so he can hear from far away. In his stinky mouth are a lot of teeth which are sharper than a needle. He has 3 big green pointy horns on the very top of his head and you can hear him from far away because of his big feet which stomp and shake the ground because he is so big and heavy. On his feet are really sharp claws that are as long as a finger.

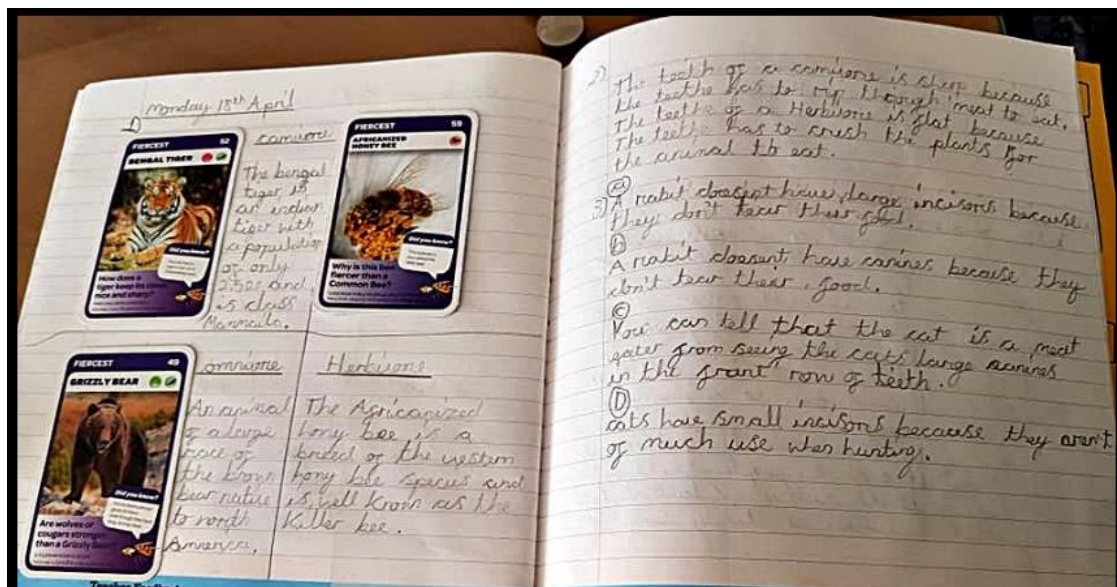

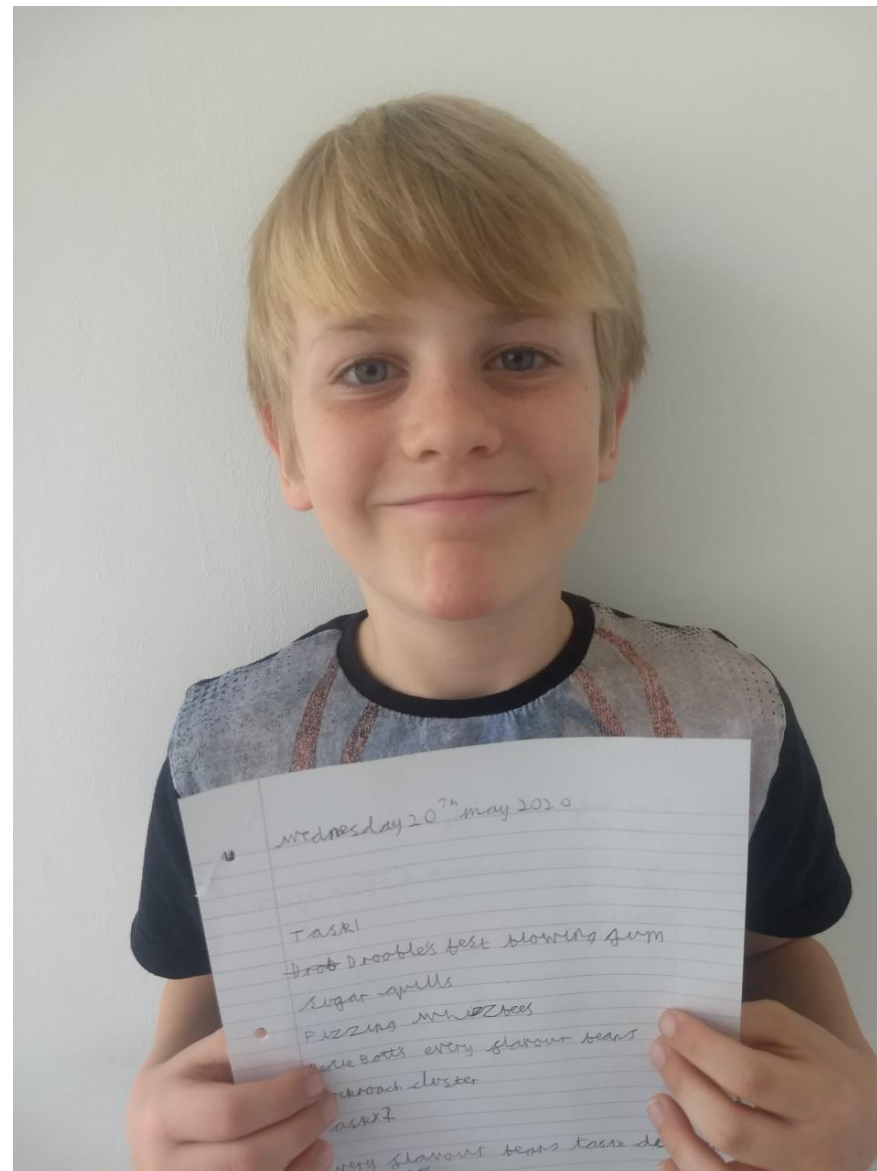

When someone enters his land, he has an appalling attitude. He likes to trick people because he is so sly and wicked. His favourite thing to do is climb the trees and get a lot of fruit to eat. He doesn't like it when people come in his land because they take all of his fruit and he thinks it is all his.

Lastly, he does not wear clothes because of a few reasons why. Firstly, he can't get any clothes because there are no clothes in the forest and two is that he does not like the smell or the look of clothes. Also, another reason why is that he has lots of fur over his purple lumpy skin so if he had clothes on, he would be way too hot.

In conclusion, it is safe to say that he is a character that you probably don't want to meet if you're wondering down in the darkest bit of the forest.

On the edge of a misty, thick forest lived a lone man called Bryn the Bristle.

Bryn considered himself a normal and interesting person, and he lived it this way, because he hid a dark secret. A very dark secret. Indeed, because he kept it he was getting unwillingly linked a colossal and bloodthirsty creature called Rager the warrior. A warrior is a brutal hybrid of vampire and werewolf covered from head to paw in wild, scaly fur with leathery bat-like wings on his back.
In order to survive, Rager needs to consume a grisly combination of blood and meat, which he gets by hunting animals in heathy farms and woodlands. Bryn is a very intelligent scientist and works at a heathy laboratory where he creates calming potions, which he uses to control Rager's savage animal instincts.
